

Dóirín Mulligan - Bio

Dóirín Mulligan has a Bachelor of Civil Law from UCD and qualified as a Solicitor in 2004.

Dóirín has a Certificate in Mediation from the National University of Ireland, Maynooth and is also a trained Collaborative Family Law practitioner. Dóirín has experience acting both as a mediator and a collaborative practitioner.

Dóirín established her own firm in 2017 to allow her to continue to focus on working in the area of Child Law and Human Rights.

Dóirín practices in the areas of Children's rights, Wardship Cases and Family Law. Dóirín is committed to ensuring that the rights of some of the most vulnerable members of society are adequately provided for and does this through her work in representing Guardian's ad Litem in the child care courts. Dóirín advocates for the rights of children through her case work in the District Court and High Court and through advocating for reform of the laws in relation to children's rights.

Dóirín has contributed articles to a number of family law publications, particularly focussing on family law during the pandemic.

Dóirín has volunteered with the ISPC and Pieta House and is a member of the Law Society of Ireland, the Family Lawyer's Association, the Children's Rights Alliance and is a volunteer member of the Board of Leopardstown Park Hospital
