

The Clevis Application Process Frequently Asked Questions

How do I apply for a place in The Clevis?

Applications are welcomed from individuals who have low dependency needs and are 65 years or older. Contact the Clevis Manager (Tel 2160555) to arrange an appointment to visit the Home. It is very beneficial for the applicant to visit the home to see the facility and the services provided. The application process and the services provided will be explained in detail during the visit. An application form needs to be completed by the applicant, with their Public Health Nurse or Social Worker and their GP and sent to the Clevis Selection Committee. All applications must be accompanied with a recent comprehensive geriatrician's assessment report.

What is the application process and timeframes involved

An application goes through the following stages before the applicant is placed on the Clevis waiting list.

- The applicant visits the Clevis to meet with the manager and the medical social worker. The Application form is completed by the applicant, with their public health nurse or social worker and their GP.
- The application is discussed at the Selection Committee Meeting.
- Once an application is successful the person is offered a trial (dependent on waiting list). When a bed is available the applicant is contacted and asked to come to stay for a one-month trial.
- As the decision to move to supported living is such a life changing one, the trial offers the person a chance to see if they like living as part of the Clevis community. It also offers the Clevis staff a reasonable time to assess the needs of the Residents and highlight any risks or areas of concern. If an applicant declines the offer of a trial, they are taken off the waiting list but can reapply at a later stage.

There are 29 bedrooms in the Clevis. The bedrooms are not ensuite but there are ample toilets and shower rooms. There are no allocated 'male and female beds', normally there are equal male and female residents in the home but this can vary.

Where do I go if I get ill in The Clevis?

If a Resident becomes acutely ill, they are transferred by ambulance to hospital. Once recovered the Resident returns home to the Clevis. If a Resident's health declines and they need full time nursing care, an application is made under the Fair Deal scheme for appropriate full time nursing care in Leopardstown Park Hospital or any nursing home of the residents' choice. The decision to transfer to a Nursing Home is made when the Residents needs outweigh what the Clevis can offer. The decision is made in consultation with the Resident, their families, and the medical team.

Is there a GP on call or do I visit my GP practice? Can I keep my existing GP?

Each Resident is offered the choice of transferring from their own GP to the LPH doctor. The doctor provides a weekly GP clinic with residents in the Clevis and urgent medical cover is also available throughout the week.

Is there a facility to collect my prescription from the chemist?

Residents no longer have to worry about arranging prescriptions and medication supplies as the Clevis manager and nurses take on this responsibility. The Clevis avails of a service from a local pharmacy who delivers the medications. Normal GMS prescription charges apply.

Where do I go to live if I am no longer able to manage in The Clevis?

When a resident's needs increase and they require full time nursing care, they are supported to make a 'Fair Deal' application by the manager and the Social Worker. Residents can choose what nursing home they would like to move to.

Can I prepare my own meals or snacks? What are the set mealtimes? Can I prepare food for my guests? Is there a separate charge for food provided by The Clevis?

All meals (breakfast, lunch, and tea) are served in the dining room and there is no additional charge. Supper is served in the resident's bedroom. Snacks are available throughout the day. Individual choice and preferred portion sizes are important. Refreshments can be requested for guests and are provided. Residents can also store snacks in the residents' fridge in the dining room.
